

The Flight

For anyone who loves airplanes, the passion usually begins at a young age. That's why I was so impressed to learn that the 9-year-old daughter of a Qatar Airways executive had written a short journal. In it, Sofia Martin-Fouroohi documents being on the delivery flight from Washington state to Doha on Qatar Airways' 25th 777 airplane.

Not only does Sofia have a promising career as a writer, but she could also go into sales and marketing. Below, you'll find her story she calls "The Flight."

"Have you ever been on a delivery flight? My mom kept saying 'You're the first kid ever on a Qatar Airways delivery flight!' It was very exciting. I got to pick wherever I sat. I even did ten push-ups in the back! Qatar Airways is a very luxurious airline. When I sat in business class, it felt like first class! It was very special because the plane was the 25th 777 Qatar Airways got. Some of the chairs even have massagers! The chairs can even turn into beds! In the back, there was a hidden door that leads to an upstairs where there were eight beds! I saw the movie Tangled; it's a really good movie! There were lots of movies to pick through, I almost couldn't decide! Boeing airplanes are very cool! I love the 777. It's very big and flies very smoothly! It was extra cool; I even went into the cockpit before takeoff! If you fly, fly Qatar Airways!"

My thanks to Sofia and our friends at Qatar Airways for such a great guest post.

Source: http://www.boeingblogs.com/randy/archives/2011/04/the_flight_1.html

...

Our youngest guest blogger ever—
9-year-old Sofia with Boeing delivery
center employee Tanger
Gillard

...

Sofia and the Qatar Airways crew prepare to take their delivery flight